SHAREHOLDER AND PROXY SOLICITATION

Our team has been executing on proxy campaigns for clients since 2004. Together we have managed over 300 campaigns (inclusive of 80 major corporate actions), so we are well established to provide bespoke advice and service for your next shareholders engagement campaign.

During a transaction, or any type of corporate activity requiring shareholder approval, engaging directly with key stakeholders can make the difference between success and failure.

Our Solicitation Success

FIRST Advisers recent proxy solicitation campaigns have:

- significantly increased voting participation and secured at-risk votes, and
- materially boosted funds collected during capital raisings, well above client expectations.

Our research indicates that approximately 20% of all shareholders in any given transaction will either not receive, or ignore the documentation. Experience tells us that investors appreciate and respond positively to shareholder engagement strategies.

Proxy Solicitation is most commonly associated with direct engagement with a Company’s shareholders, both institutional and retail. It can however be much broader, extending to sell-side analysts, broker advisers, financial planners, employees, customers/ clients, business partners and local communities.
